

CREDITS

Joanne Haynes: Concept, Producer, Director, Writer

Joanne Haynes is an award-winning writer, recent filmmaker and creative facilitator. Her first film, The Fallen People of the Black Land, (animated short) was an official selection of the Trinidad and Tobago film festival and the Anime Caribe Film Festival. Legends Revisited, her first live-action film, is directed alongside her 21 year old son, Ka'en and is produced under her brand Pepperpot Productions.

Ka'en Haynes: Director

Ka'en Haynes is a law student at the Institute of Law and Academic Studies with a passion for art and film. He has been creative advisor for Pepperpot Productions for the past three years and made some solid calls regarding artwork and animation style on the animated short The Fallen People of the Black Land. He makes his directing debut with Legends Revisited.

Sean Edghill: Director of Photography

Sean Edghill has been in this business for 23 years. Growing up around his amateur photographer parents, the camera cast its spell on Sean at an early age. The film world opened up even more for him as he grew older, putting him in the midst of young enthusiastic film makers who were already at the top of the game and who inspired him to catch up, meet up and fly. Largely self-taught, Sean found his magic behind the camera and it became the place where his restless, curious nature could finally exhale with unbounded creativity. This DoP's mission in his own words is: 'Creating new eye candy for the world, that's my thing!'

Kerron Lemessy: Sound Engineer

With over 10 years of production experience, a video production certificate from the Ministry of Community Development, Culture and Gender Affairs and a strong I.T. background, Kerron Lemessy has a holistic view of the necessary skills in video production. With skills in videography and video editing and a strong focus on Location Sound, audio tech, boom operations and Post Sound, Kerron has worked in ENG, reality, documentary, corporate, commercial, infomercial, short and feature film.

Liam Camps: Final Editor

Liam Camps is a Trinidadian television and film editor, based in Bristol, England. His credits include work for the BBC, Channel 4, TLC, and History Channel.

Joffre Allong: Rough cut Editor

Joffre Allong makes his editing debut with Legends Revisited as a self-taught enthusiast with an editor's eye looking for a break. He is presently pursuing a video editing course at SBCS.

Leon Foster Thomas: Music

Leon Foster Thomas is a unique force in modern jazz. All About Jazz has labeled him as "the next big thing on his instrument" (Dan Bilawsky). Winner of the World Steelband Music Festival's Soloist and Duet competitions in 2002 and 2004, Foster has worked with such artists as Len 'Boogsie' Sharpe, Hugh Masekela and Dolly Parton, to name a few. His latest release, Brand New Mischief, shows his penchant for lyricism and his creativity as a composer. Leon holds a Masters in Music degree from Florida International University and Bachelor's of Music degree from Florida Memorial University.

Zidelle: Costume

Zidelle Daniel is a Costumer and has a BA in Fashion Design. She has worked on various film and stage performances since 2006 and is the Creative Director at fashion label, XOZ. Heavily influenced by her environment, her work is noticeably Caribbean yet comprehensive to the wider audience.

Jaumark Pierre: Make up

Jaumark Pierre has been a creative in the field of beauty and fashion for the past 10 years as a qualified fashion designer, graphic artist and makeup artist. Jaumark read for a BA Graphic Design the same time he was pursuing his BA in Fashion Design. His client list includes Kes the band, Destra Garcia, Blaxx, Isaac Blackman, Nadia Batson and Patrice Roberts. As a celebrity beauty advisor his interest in developing an icon is represented in how he celebrates the balance of face, hair and body. Equally talented in the art of gore, he did FX make up on the film Legends Revisited.

Errol Fabien: Narrator

Errol Fabien needs no introduction as his name is a household Caribbean name. This veteran's career in the arts spans over twenty five years as comedian, actor, MC, narrator, writer, presenter and television and radio host. He lends his famous voice to one of the shorts in this film.
